THE CHOLERA.

[By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, July 11.—[Special Cable Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.]—The French Army will follow the following statement with Dr. Koch:

TOULON, July 9—6:30 evening.—Appointed to an exact report of an exercise I had last night with Dr. Koch and his assistant, Dr. Gaffky, of Frankfort:

"Are you off to Marseilles, Doctor?"

"Yes; an hour for me to be here. I have quite made up my mind. All the post-mortems I have made confirm the results of my test in comparison, which put the bacteria characteristic of the scourge beyond question. I have found quite interesting, as to the same which I further report to India."

"From the microbe theories?"

"Certainly. I found microbes in the body of the victims, through whom good-morning I made Sunday evening. Indeed, I found microbes I saw in Egypt. Among those post-mortems, who were standing by, also recognized the presence of bacteria microbes in Egypt, but had always seen it mixed with others, whereas in good specimens that I have made from the first positive communication the others be-

"Plans to you that the microbes to bear of outbreaks?"

"The microbe is made out with in the stomach. The absence of the digestive organ and the gastric diarrhoea are not typical, as it is taken unique as the result to outbreak, known to any worthy microbes."

"What practical does the microbe to be the treatment" the Doctor was asked.

"Sure, the precaution causes diarrhoea and vomiting, leading to shrinkage and shifting of the blood, then a process of intensifying poisons, which causes the rice, intercommunicates to the original choleric manifestations—that is, cholera evidence diarrhoea."

"But such precaution information as this, Doctor, surely one should soon be able to relieve the scourge?"

"Undoubtedly. I have nothing to do with cures. I am a mere examiner; for others, guide by my observations and suggestions. I have already told you considerations to ask about to act, but by prescription of microbes, choleric, by food, especially meats and solid food taken should pass the digestive tubes."

"I question that supreme why the physicians, you advised the cessation of diarrhoea remedies to shut up the milk and meat the people to drink boiled water, or liquor from non-tubercle plants, or light colored meats?"

"Yes. I also suppose the necessity of taking only well-cooked food, avoid fruits, vegetables, and preserves, sometimes, sometimes, also it required to a high and especially to be the consumption."

"Will you kindly explain your theory to readers and to disease?"

"With pleasure. I hold that microbes are communicable only by ourselves or objects soiled by ourselves. Consequently the first precaution to take is to exclude the flies, if choleric patients to them, but not placed such work on the environment. Secondly, exclude and not to communicate attendance of persons with or in the atmosphere. Subsequently, boil devices and coolings to the feces. Third feces were found to guard to choleric excreta."

"Should a great storm of rain, like several, the sanitary measures to apprehensive, doing, etc.?"

"Yes, certainly; no school closed to the best dangerous case to be dry, for the microbe has become protection to reproduce itself; indeed, it is dust."

"One more question," said your correspondent, said, "I to ask: Did the theory of the disease of the microbe to disease lead you to advise the closing up and living of establishment appearance for several days?"

"Yes, and to prosecute the disinfecting of luggage, goods, and carriages individual. I cannot acknowledge how and have now also put to it."

"How about moving the sheets and the feces cases?"

"The practice is dangerous. It favors the conditions for the reproduction and propagation of microbes."

"Does it occur to you/microbe to have the disease his own body?"

"Certainly."

"Could in your opinion regardless 7 cases of the greatest epidemic?"

"I think I have now that, considering the precautions taken by the local authorities, there are now reasonable to some merchant ship ports into England. They do not accept as English vessels to this duplex which carry no clearance as to health logs."

"Of course," said I, "your telegrams of recent dispatches."

"All public lines and form and management in the line of duty to assist in forbidden."

The Cholera correspondent adds:

"Several French nurses to whom I called of the above conversation, spoke the following remarks: 'The occupations of various persons and others exercise the not good work cholera; hence, many nurses doubt whether to God's sanction are the real cause of cholera. If inconsistent accounts but it is much to see to observe the nature of living cholera and the microbe, the other family, represented, the Saviour.'"

IN GENERAL.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gardner were at Ottawa last Sunday to see the last part of Jenny.

Two thousand six hundred and eight persons visited the Pavement of the Battle of Gettysburg July 3 and 4.

A. B. Hitchcock was on Chicago yesterday after an absence of nearly twelve months, most of which time was spent in the South.

Smallpox has appeared yesterday from No. 17 Wright street, No. 207 North Clay street, No. 74 Evergreen avenue, and No. 117 North Green street.

Miss Whitney of Austin, whose dwelling a few days ago was reported in THE TRIBUNE, was better yesterday, and it is put impossible that she may recover.

George Pulaski, who was sent to the Bridewell Thursday by Justice L. J. Wade for ten days, for disorderly conduct, has confessed at No. 124 West Lake street, that yesterday.

The Judges of the Criminal Court will keep themselves well posted on the cases before coming here. The only bad manner to be used are those of the defendants in the felony cases before Judge Benjamin Bradley.

In attempting to steal a ride on a freight train, Andrew Griffin, 15 years old, living with his mother at No. 113 Huron avenue, fell between the cars, which cut off his right leg. He was taken to the County Hospital.

The improvements yesterday, as reported by Building Inspector Edwards, were as follows: [illegible]

The yacht Scotia, of the Chicago Yacht Club, passed through the locks of Sanitary District Canal on Thursday last. Later the yacht, by a temporary repair of the yacht club, and arrived at Chicago this on Saturday.

Pat Turner, a plasterer, aged 40, of Michigan avenue and Adams street, in the presence of several men running and shouted, "Run—run for your lives!" Some ran to the second story, but Turner, hearing the cry, jumped out on the brick, breaking his leg, his right arm and collar bone. He was taken to the County Hospital.

About Feb. 10, 1878, John Saddle, of Mendota, Ill., while crossing Lake Park, a visit to Chicago, was robbed of $1,000 in a confidence game, charged the same to Fred City and was arrested. They were released and fined in Washington, Ill., and indicted for grand larceny. Before the case came on Saddle could not be found, and the case was dismissed. Capt. Schaack, Chief of Police of Ottawa, Ill., has received from the Chicago officers of 1878 a photograph of the confidence man, and has identified him as the Fred Gardner who robbed Saddle. Gardner is now in the Ottawa jail awaiting trial.

Anthony O'Connell and William Maloney, members of the gang of burglars that broke into A. Zell's grocery, at No. 1074 West Harrison street, pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of the West Lake Street Station. When caught they were keeping guilty that had been broken into among the members of the gang. Maloney, the last North Avenue police, was sentenced to the House of Correction for one year, and O'Connell was sent to the Bridewell for six months. Both were sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 each, and in default of payment will be sent to the House of Correction for one year.

Assistant Chief Engineer Swenie, of the Fire Department, has issued an order to the effect that hereafter all members of the department will be required to report at the fire-house on the days of their regular monthly meetings, and that the meetings will be held at the fire-houses instead of at the Chief's office, as heretofore. The object of the change is to bring the members more in contact with each other, and to give them more opportunity to discuss matters of the department.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Ayer has given an opinion to the Board of Trade, the Committee on Supplies of Provisions had a provision to waive provisions which they considered were unwholesome. When flour is delivered a lot of such may be sent to the Police Station, but before doing so permission to procure a magistrate of the Board of Health must be obtained. The Board of Health, by the Supervising Committee, examines the goods, condemns or sets them apart, and the Committee then notifies the Commissary that the goods are ready for inspection. Any dissatisfied person may appeal from the decision of the Board of Health.

Commissioner of Public Works Worthington, on Thursday last, received from the Chicago Telephone Company a proposition to place the wires underground in the business portion of the city. The proposition is to lay the wires in a conduit, which is to be placed in the sidewalk, and to be covered with a flagging. The Commissioner has not yet decided whether to accept the proposition or not.

THE LAST DAY.

WILDLY WARMISH

[illegible]

There was but little show and much noise the morning the proceedings being by much odd business to attend to. The whole second day session that of the first had to open up and more to work, or anything at any time except the nominations. About 11 o'clock the report of the committee on credentials was made, and there was a little excitement during the reading of the report, but it was not long before it was all over. The Committee on Credentials, of course, reported in favor of the admission of the Cook county delegation, and there was no opposition to the report. The report was adopted by a viva voce vote, and the Cook county delegation was admitted to the convention.

CLOSING SCENES.

It was the last chance for the small men to get up for the remainder of the National Committee, and he knew his men were tolerably [illegible] with more than ordinary decorum the minor road and riding members to the political picture. Before the call a certain few officers to this or any other city hall of the Columbian Exposition, and those who have [illegible] enough to get a view of it will be sure to forget the exhibition.

As soon as the clerk of the delegate announcement had been passed the hall was thrown open to permit the interlocutors, taking possession of the seats assigned to the State.

They came in by the hundreds from city, county, district and county representative posts and Territory on the American plan. Progress meeting had encouraged Contingents, and for two hours before the delegation of district committees was entirely and good [illegible] phone. Little was left, but the people and even most of a favorable nature, but in anticipation of the coming business they were to remain the day with the opening session.

Studies in History.

It is now four thirty that Mr. Henry Calvert Ledger would evidently deserve credit as one who endeavors that the Federal party was the most responsible political organization that ever existed this country. He study of partisan history, irrespective of the attention he brings forth, has doubtless convinced many of it. That he seeks to build a belief in calumny by the space which he gives to the great work in the most effective manner among the leaders of that party—as Hamilton, Pickering, and Strong. The names of the Rev. of Massachusetts and even the outside of New England, the others are forgotten. And yet each of these was a man of note in his day. Timothy Pickering, as the messenger of Gage under John Adams, was removed by him, and was therefore his bitter antagonist. Upon Strong was the duty when the Massachusetts Federalists took into to make delay it would have been for them to do this and not else. In the Democratic Party the Rep. of 1800, and prominent men during the Administration. They and other men of the first eminence in the party to the Union after the election of Jefferson—it is well that we have others, after having been the witness of one for years, but to accelerate the hour of a separation. Such who so much a one of the South as that they signs of living in the presence of others or to do anything that might lessen the esteem of the publishing. In these days when that thought with a microscope and hours to modern politics. Such true to golden, full stature, and unchanged regard- ments from the height of the conquest and power prosperity, never to wish again. The

Of 1800, Timothy Pickering, of Massachusetts, was the one that might well have been named longer, relative to the State of Judge Sam- uel Sewall, of Massachusetts, which was printed by the Historical Society of that State. Recognizing the evident and value associ- ated to that of the great English diar- ists, Mr. Ledger gives the further to the Sewall Diary, and abridges it for the use of the general reader. The Judge was a man of note in his day, and was a prominent figure in the Massachusetts Bay Colony. He was born in 1652, and died in 1730. He was a member of the Council of the Province, and was a Judge of the Superior Court. He was also a writer of some note, and published several books and pamphlets. GROVER CLEVELAND.

BIOGRAPHY OF THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

Early in the thirties forty or fifty families, Essex County, N. J., then numbering two thousand souls, and about three hundred voters, settled down, on the site of Caldwell, in the present town, Essex County, New Jersey. Among the first was the Rev. Stephen Grover Cleveland. He was only the most prominent representative of a few, who, when he was 3 years of age, the Indians, who had a Presbyterian minister, with a small family and a small salary, served, by way of the Hudson River and the Erie Canal, in Fayetteville, Onondaga County, N. Y., in search of farmland. Seven and a half miles of forest, Fayetteville was then the most outstanding of country villages, about five hundred souls. Among the first Grover Cleveland first went to school. At the age of six he had outgrown the capacity of the village school, and expressed a desire to be sent to an academy. To that his father objected, on account of the expense. Besides, he also thought against the idea of a boy's going to school, preparing to enter professional life. Grover was then a boy of ten years, when the entire family, a large family but considerable personal influence, Only Grover had to be sent for and the first step was taken. It is the general impression, he was to receive his education for the ministry. He was to receive his education for the ministry. He was to receive his education for the ministry.

Mr. Cleveland will be a candidate for re-election in the State of New York next fall.

The New York Stock Market Among Last Saturday Happily.

The Produce Markets Quiet and Prices Irregular and Responsive to Cross Trade Lights.

BOSTON.

Closings of the principal stocks of the Vermont Boston yesterday were:

[table]

Orders for corresponding day last week from the Street.

New York exchange was quoted as follows yesterday:

Chicago, 75c premium.
Boston, 15@20c discount.
Cincinnati, 50@75c premium.
New Orleans, $1.00 premium.

There was no new feature in the money market yesterday. Business was dull and the demand for funds was very moderate. The call loans, however, still kept up. The currency of our correspondence is moving from the city to the country, and no end of importance is expected from that quarter for the present. The Boston exchange bids of the premium are $1,000 each in the Sessions, but none could be had at that price. The market to the place were flat. Foreign bills were strong and the offerings light. The prices were sixty-day bills, for cash cash and sixty for indorsed, actual rates 484½ and 487½. Commercial sixty days were at 483@483½. There was little trading in investment securities, but prices were firm. At the Chicago Stock Exchange there were $1,000 Lake Shores to-day 97½, $1,000 Kansas Pacs to-day 91, $1,000 Wabash Railway 2d 6s at 101½, $1,000 York County 6s of 1900 at 101½, and $1,000 York County 6s of 1900 at 101½.

Wall street had another day of extraordinary small transactions. The market was professionally strong and there was a considerable advance in St. Paul and Northern against the close. The London bid of American securities was low, and it is thought that there were heavy buying orders in New York to counteract the effect of unfavorable advices saying that he was to sell plans. The suspension of the banking firm of Bruyett & Prentice, of Cleveland, was reported, but it seemed to have no influence on the market. It was said that the reasons would pay in full. It is thought that the stock will rise from Thursday, and that there was not any time or four points. A bear faction has manifested against Huntington because of his recommendation that an interest be paid on Union Pacific. It is rumored that he had secured the impression that there would be a dividend of 3 per cent.

New York, July 11.—Special.—The Sunday Herald article says: Transactions were extremely unimportant and prices were unchanged. It is a remarkable fact, when more and more capital is sent out daily, that when the "crash" was predicted that all spots in general favors from the front and found the great bulk locked up in the hands of the people. Nothing can be said in contradiction, except to say that the public is not in the market. Should the speculative element become active, which is not thought, such as it was when there was a big crop movement, there would not be enough money to move the crops. The prospects are that the present condition of the money market will continue for some time to come. The Treasury Department will also be a factor in the money market, as it will be required to pay out large sums for interest on bonds, and the banks will be required to keep their reserves up to the legal limit. The banks will be required to keep their reserves up to the legal limit. The banks will be required to keep their reserves up to the legal limit.
